How this Travel or Training Benefited the Citizens of Broomfield:

This training provides an opportunity to meet and interact with County officials from all over Colorado. In addition, there is training and seminars provided to help understand and maximize programs, training and assistance that is available to the counties.

The CCI organization meetings were insightful and allowed to hear all sides on issues that impact Colorado and the Counties, especially in an election years. I found it interesting that such a wide view of issues were held by different Counties. On further reflection, it was often related to rural or urban nature of the Counties. Learned a lot in discussions with other commissions and staff that will help Broomfield down the road.
